Don’t go into too much detail here because that is what the rest of the presentation is about.

Volume number italicized. Issue number NOT italicized.

“An” starts with a capital number because it comes after punctuation (the colon : )

Period after page numbers

No punctuation after the doi number
What is APA Style?

- Created and maintained by the American Psychological Association
- A format for writing and documenting academic papers in the social sciences.
- Sixth edition released July 1, 2009

Why Use APA Format?

- Allow those who read your paper to access the information
- Give credit to the original writers for their ideas
- Provide uniform guidelines for academic papers
- Protect yourself from plagiarism

Professors WANT to see your source.

Give people credit for their ideas

Easier to grade

Zgrade policy – after 2nd offence, shows on your permanent transcript. Your future employer will know that you cheated in a class.

Four Page Types

Title Page

Abstract Page

Text Page(s)

References Page(s)

We will go into detail on each one of these in the following slides
Section 8.03 (p229) – Title Page

Title page includes 5 elements: title, running head, page number, author byline, and institutional affiliation.

Running Head

- is an abbreviated title that is printed at the top of the pages of the manuscript.
- Should be a maximum of 50 characters.
- Should appear flush left in all uppercase letters at the top of the title page and all subsequent pages.

Section 2.04 (p25-27)

Most freshman and sophomore classes do not need an Abstract Page
If you hit the space bar twice on your cell phone, it puts a period in your text.

Format of paper 8.03 – p228-229

Punctuation – Section 4.01 & 4.02 p87-88

Text Page Section 2.04 (Pg 26-27)

We will see a hanging indent on the slide for References

Order of References Section 6.25 (p181)

Example – p 49-51

General – Section 2.11
Two Types of Citations

Reference Page

You cannot do the In-Text Citations until you do the References Page

basic information needed for entries on the reference page:

- General Reference Page Info – Section 6.22 (p180)
- Authors – 6.25
- Publication Date – 6.28
- Title – 6.29
- Publication Information – 6.30 (this is where things get messy)
Example – p. 49 & 50

“References” should be centered two lines below the abbreviated title.

All sources are double spaced and alphabetized according to author.

Don’t spend too much time on this – examples are next

Notice that titles of books and journals are italicized while titles of articles are neither italicized nor put in quotes.

And only the first word of a title and the first word of a subtitle are capitalized.

Reference Page – Book, Print Version

Books – 7.02  This example (p203)
Author – 6.27 (p184)
Pub. Date – 6.28(p185)
Capitalization – 6.29
Title – 6.29
Publisher name – 6.30
This would be a textbook

Point out capitalization – 4.12 (p. 228)

4.16 B 25 (p249)

Book with Editor

BIBLE

References to classical works such as the Bible and the Qur’an are cited only in the text of the paper

1 Cor. 13:1 (Revised Standard Version)

Classical works are not put on the References page

6.18 (p178)
Journal Article: with DOI

Must use “&” not the word “and”

DOI – p 278

Date – no month needed if there is an issue number or continuous pagination 4.11 (p. 227)

Issue No. - If the source has continuous pagination, you do not need to put the issue number. 4.11 (p. 227)

p. 240

Capitalization for Article Title: 4.10 (p226)

Capitalization for Journal Title: 4.11 (p227)

Page numbers – use pp. for newspapers only (p. 227 last point)

Magazines (p. 227, 241)

279

While you will not find http://dx.doi.org/10.1002/hbm.20037 in the APA manual, this is how publishers are currently formatting the DOI number. This makes it easier for the user because it is a hyperlink they can click rather than a number they must cut and paste into a Google search.

DOI

- Digital Object Identifier
- doi:10.1002/hbm.20037
- http://dx.doi.org/10.1002/hbm.20037
6.31 – Electronic sources and locator information

No database reference needed if DOI is available.

---

Article from Library Databases

doi:10.1037/0735-7028.37.3.283

Library Database – no DOI.

---

SEU exception with doi/Permalink – you must ask your professor first!!!!!!

Permalink because there is no DOI. Notice the permalink ends with the word “ehost-live” in EBSCO. If your link does not have “ehost-live” you have copied the wrong permalink

Note: this was from EBSCO Academic Premier

No retrieval date needed.
We have been looking at the long citations that go on the References page.

Now we are going to look at the short “in-text” citations that go inside of your paper.
The In-Text Citation allows readers to locate the source information on the Reference page.

3 pieces of information are needed for in-text citations:

- Author’s last name
- Year of publication
- The page numbers (only for a direct quotation and paraphrasing)

Either format is acceptable. It is good to use both to provide variety for your reader.
More Examples

Sometimes additional information is necessary . . .

- More than one author with the same last name (H. James, 1878); (W. James, 1880)
- Two or more works in the same parentheses (Caruth, 1996; Fussell, 1975; Showalter, 1997)
- Work with six or more authors (Smith et al., 1998)
- Specific part of a source (Jones, 1995, chap. 2)

Where can you go for additional help?

- ACE Writing Lab 667-5137
- A Librarian – Amy (x5060), Kathy (x5949), Nathan (x5309) or Glenn (x5987)
